MAYHEM IN PITTSBURG. A Desperade Bites off the Ear of a Pelice Officer.

The Pittsburg Commercial of yesterday says:
About 1 o'cleck yesterday afternoon a most siekening sight was witnessed in the vicinity of Neil McCallion's saloon, on Sixth street. It seems that the well-known Johnny Newell was talking in a boisterous manner to Henry A. Grant, the colored foot-racer, with whom Newell ran a race in the oil regions. Officer Lewis Johnston, of the Mayor's pelice, came along, and before he had spoken Newell assailed i him with vile epithets. Johnston told him to keep quiet, but this had the effect of increasing his disorderly demonstra-tions, and the officer ordered him under arrest. They had proceeded but a short distance up Sixth street, when Newell drew from his pocket a large brass key, and before Johnston was aware what he was going to do, received two severe blows upon the head. Newell at the same time tripped him, and he fell, catching hold of and taking Newell down with him. While struggling in the gutter Newell get the officer's left ear in his mouth, and bit it entirely off as close as if it had been cut off entirely off—as close as if it had been cut off with a knife. The officer regained his feet a moment afterwards, and notwithstanding he was bleeding and suffering intensely from the loss of his car and the gash on his head, clung to his prisoner and conveyed him to the Mayor's

There was a large crowd of Newell's companions present, also a number of citizens, and to their discredit it should be said, not one of them interfered in the officer's behalf. An old gentleman named Prescott once attempted to go to the rescue of Officer Johnston, but the thieving companions of Newell caught and pulled him away. Any citizen who would stand by and see an efficer abused in the manner described, without cudeavoring to help him, should not be recognized as a citizen. The officer was not on his beat, and did not have a mace or weapon upon his person. Dr. Murdoch, the city physiciau, was sum-moned and the wound of the injured man dressed. That upon his head is about an inch and a half in length. The place from whence the ear was taken had to be sewed up, after which plasters were placed upon it and the whole head bandaged up. Johnston then made an information against Newell for mayhem, the warrant was read to him, and he was told he would have to remain in the lock-up until this morning at 10 o'clock, when a hearing will take place.

Officer Johnston is a trusty and reliable guar-dian, who has a ways rendered satisfaction. His conduct is highly commended in all quarters, and one well-known gentleman suggests that a substantial recognition of such merit as was displayed by the officer be given him, and so suggests that a purse or reward be given him, and as an earnest of the offer he proposes to head the list with ten dollars.

The penalty for the offense is a fine of $1000 and five years in the penitentiary. In addition to this the Mayor intends having the officer prefer a charge of aggravated assault and battery against him, in order that the punishment may be as severe as possible.

INCREDIBLE OUTRAGE.

A Clergyman Murdered in his Pulpit. From the New Era, Fort Smith, Ark., April 28.

The mest dastardly outrage heard of for a long time was perpetrated last Saturday at Chocoville, a quiet and flourishing village in the southern part of this county near the Indian line. have the following particulars from the Hon. E E. Henderson, Superintendent of Public Instruction for this district, who returned last evening from a visit to Waldron, and passed through Chocoville yesterday as the murdered man was buried. On Saturday morning as the Rev. Mr. De Champ, of the Missionary Baptist Church at Checoville, was about to open religious services, and while the congregation was still gathering, a rufflan named Handley entered the meeting-house, revolver in hand, and approaching the minister, asked him his name. On being told, Handley levelled his revolver at Mr. De Champ and fired four shots at him, three of which took effect in the head and one in the arm. The demoniac assassin then wheeled round, and levelling his revolver at the congregation, drove them out of the house with curses and imprecations and threats of death. The affrighted people of course hastily fied in every direction. The murderer then leaped upon his horse, tied close to the building, and galloped off. He has not yet been captured.

As to the cause of the murder, the following is teld:—The man Handley, who has previously borne a notoriously bad character, some four years ago interrupted in the most scan dalous manner a religious meeting at which the unfortunate De Champ officiated, for which offense the latter had him indicted before the Grand Jury, tried, and fined $50. Handley went off to Texas soon afterwards, where his deviltries also made it too hot for him, and from whence he returned recently, to imbrue his hands in the blood of a good man in the appalling manner stated. Great excitement exists all through the county at the fearful deed

PAINFUL INCIDENT OF THE WAR.

The Death of General Besson. General Besson's death forms one of the most painful incidents of the French civil war. After the taking of the barricade on the 6th inst., he was riding at the head of two regiments along the high street leading to the Ternes Gate, when he saw an insurgent, who wore the uni-form of a marine, taking aim at him from a window. He snatched a Chassepot from one of the soldiers nearest to him, and said. "I will bring down that accountrel." But the words were scarcely out of his mouth when the insurgent's shot brought down the General, who fell dead with a bullet which went through his lungs. He was a pupil of St. Cyr, took part in many campaigns in Africa, was a major before Sebastopol, served as head of the staff of an army corps in Italy, and again as head of the staff of an army corps of the Army of the Rhine. He had only returned from captivity in Germany a few days before.

PARIS, May 5-Friday noon .- Your correspondent saw General Rossel this morning. He complained of the erroneous statements published about him. He denied that he had demanded a commission from M. Thiers, and it was refused. Since the capitulation of Paris, the ties binding him with the army had been broken, and he remained at his post simply to finish the work he had in hand. For a long time past his convictions were antagonistic to the former social organizations of old France, which had just succumbed in such a cowardly manner.

They were stolen from Adams Express Company, and one of them found its way to England, where it was bought up by the agent of the defendants, Duncan, Sherman & Co. The agent inserted Duncan, Sherman & Co.'s name on the face of the bill, and drew his pen over the Indorsement. Duncan, Sherman & Co. presented it for redemption, but it was rejected, the bank having filed a caveat. The bank sued Duncan, Sherman & Co. to recover

The action came up in the Common Pleas yesterday before Chief Justice Dully, Judges Robinson and Larremore. The plaintiffs insist that the endorsement took the bond entirely out of the character of negotiable paper, dedicated it to particular use, and made it no longer nego-tiable. On the part of the defendants it is claimed that no payee being named on the face of the note or bond, under well-settled mercantile law the endorsement was a nullity, and the bill or bond good in the hands of whosoever might honestly get it, and that in any case the endorsement might be erased, and the original endorsement, "To bearer," left valid, erasing at the same time the liability of the endorser and his control of the paper. Decision reserved.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

EVENING TELEGRAPH OFFICE, Saturday, May 6, 1871. In the Philadelphia money market there is a very sharp demand for call loans to meet the wants of the brokers, who are having a very lively time in a succession of scoops which have been managed with unusual advoitness, and with large profit to themselves. The money supply, however, is quite large and much in excess of current wants, making rates easy at 5@6 per cent. on call, and 6@7 per cent. on prime dis-counts. Good paper having three or four menths to mature is in high favor at the banks and scarce. Gold is quiet and steady, with the sales ranging from 111@111½, closing at 111½.

Government bonds are dull and steady, the prices remaining at last night's quotations.

At the Stock Board there was an active demand and a large business transacted. Sales of State 6s, first series, at 104, and second do. at 107%. City 6s sold freely at 103@103% for the new certificates, and at 103 for the old do. Reading Railroad was steady, with sales at 56%. Pennsylvania sold at 63@633%; Philadelphia and Eric at 283/@285%; Lehigh Valley at 62%; Camden and Amboy at 1251/@1255%, and Northern Central at 42%. Oil Creek and Allegheny was very active but weak, prices falling off from 521/@518/.

off from 52%@51%.

Canal shares were in demand but inactive.

Small sales of Lehigh at 34%.

In Bank stocks we notice sales of Mechanics' at 32%@32%, and Third National at 114.

Among the Passenger Railroad shares there were several sales of West Philadelphia at 68; Chesnut and Walnut at 51, and large sales of Hestonville at 21%@22.

Big Mountain Coal sold at 6%.
